This is your chance to get it right with the men in your life. Men are eager to do what you want. Join us to learn how to win their cooperation.

Home at Last

As you know, we have been searching for a new training center for next year. As it happens Mia got off the plane from San Francisco last month, took a late night stroll around the neighborhood, and discovered the loveliest building in Santa Eulalia for her new headquarters.

You are going to have to see this place to believe it. She has contracted a freestanding building, two stories high, plus a full disco bunker underground with thick concrete walls to make sure that our celebrations don't disturb the neighbors. Every room has large windows and air conditioning. Your next class will take place in an elegant, spacious training center. The private garden is quite large. We will need that space for the outdoor pergola and movement/yoga center.

Mia found the building, but let's not forget that we all built this business and created this exciting new location together as a team. This is your house on Ibiza. We are looking forward to training and playing together with you in the coming years on this wonderful island.

HTT—How to Talk to People

Mia is also busy changing the world with a new employee owned corporation. You can be an associate, a team member, or become a full partner by owning shares in the company. We are looking for team players that can travel and deliver relationship training worldwide.

All of our associates will perform from the same training manuals. We will train weekly via SKYPE to become the greatest show on Earth.

Changing the world comes down to transforming relationships between men and women. You can do that. We can show you how. We can also make sure that your training skills are amazing. If you are a team player, contact us today to find your place in this amazing game.

WHAT'S NEW

At Miamar we offer dynamic training for coaches, entrepreneurs and business leaders. Our prices are always fair. From our perspective, our clients are our partners. We work very hard to help you grow your businesses and refer to one another.

When the economy stumbled in 2008 we cut our prices by 40%. Now we are expanding our services and restoring our original fees so that we can venture into new markets. Our super-low fees will be available through the end of December 2012. You can also purchase a low-cost one-year training package for 2013 by registering within this year.

Greetings from Mia Sage

I wouldn't trade my life for anyone else's on Earth. I am enjoying the sweetness and loving-kindness of so many wonderful people. When I look at celebrities and powerful leaders, most don't seem very happy. Better to have true friends and to be cherished by good people. Nothing compares.

Finding my true calling made all the difference. My sensitivity is a social handicap, but my "weakness" enables me to read people for a living. By making simple, honest observations I have been fortunate enough to attract authentic players and partners into my life game. It is an honor for me to manage such wonderful coaches and trainers.

Now, after many years of searching, I have found a lovely training center by the sea in Santa Eulalia. I want to invite you to the Launch Celebration on Halloween. Please attend in costume, playing a role that you would love to live in real life. Then stay for the new How to Talk to Men in Business seminar in our elegant new center.

The next step is a conversation with you to see how our evolving partnership can serve our entire network better. Let us know how we can improve services and increase your earnings.

We are all capable of surprising one another with new levels of excellence. Our mutual appreciation grows sweeter with each passing year. We need your help—we all need to help one another. You are our special ambassadors of loving harmony. Let's show the world what we can do by valuing one another.

How To Talk to Men Preview

Feminine Mystique – New York

Entrepreneur School (Oct 15-20)

Now is the time to prepare for your future career. We can help you design and build a great business by assisting you to put your plans into action. No college course in the world is as effective as the training you will receive in this 6-day intensive. You will learn the 14 essential stages that your business will go through as it grows. Join us to rehearse the specific skills you need to navigate the world of business.

Most people work too hard at the wrong things, so they expend a lifetime of energy to make a small achievement. This course will show you how to build a winning team of specialists that will reduce your effort and radically increase your results. You will get the overview you need to build the right career for you.

Millionaire 10-Day (Oct 22-31)

Anyone can become a millionaire if he or she is willing to play fair and stick to the rules of business. Our sure-fire approach uses the law of the farm. Here you learn to prepare the ground, plant seeds in the form of exciting projects, and then tend to your crop until it is ready for harvest. Forget about get-rich schemes, multi-level plans, and investment scams. The only reliable path to prosperity is through providing good products and services at fair prices. To deliver in the marketplace you have to build a great team that can win the trust of your customers and clients over several years. We can show you how. If you are willing to take complete responsibility for leading your team and to make sure that you handle every detail, then you will reach a level of success reserved for the top players in the game of business.

Global Women's Entrepreneur Network Austin, Texas (Nov 1-4)

Women face special challenges in the game of business. Achieving success requires instruction and inspiration from business women that have already made the journey. It is one thing to hear men talking about how they made it. It is another thing entirely to rub shoulders with highly successful women entrepreneurs that can make you feel the confidence that you can do it too. You learn the game of business through osmosis—by soaking in the energy and intelligence of other competent women that have gone before you.

How To Talk to Men in Business

Pilot (Nov 01-04)

The business world fails to offer women an equal playing field. Over 40% of women are unable to find high-ranking positions after the birth of their first child. Virtually all attempts to even the score through diversity training have ended in frustration. Both sexes feel misunderstood in companies and organizations. How to Talk to Men in Business provides clear distinctions and high intensity role-play scenarios to introduce women to the masculine culture and the insider language of business that men use to get things done. We are offering this pilot training one time only at a 50% reduction of tuition. You are welcome to join us for this tough, honest encounter with the male business code.

How to Talk to Men in Bed

Pilot (Nov 05-08)

Women marry men hoping that they will change. Men marry women hoping that they will stay the same. Both are disappointed. Few women know how to keep the magnetism alive. Few men know how to please a woman sexually. Neither sex knows how to ask for what they need. When it comes to intimate desires, both men and women are lost in a fog of miscommunication. When sex dries up, men move on to greener pastures. Women feel hurt and betrayed. They cannot see the connection between the loss of passion and the loss of the man. How to Talk to Men in Bed uses role-play and humorous conversation to uncover the blocks to the flow of attraction between men and women. This is a pilot course, so you save 50 % on tuition— one time only. Take this chance to open a new dimension of love and vitality with men.

The Art of Loving Protection

(Nov 09-11)

Every woman has been hurt by a modern homo-sapiens male. Too many men use words to dominate and to establish lines of authority. In battle and in sports they cut to the chase to get things done. In relationship they cut to the heart, spewing harsh words that can leave a woman feeling small and worthless. The Art of Loving Protection is a three-day game of facing down male dominance. We learn new strategies by playing the attactics game. Your classmates attack you verbally using phrases that have injured them at home and at work. Each woman rehearses ways to deflect and defend against unconscious male brutality. By the end of this 3-day free-for-all you will discover your self-esteem and confidence. You will have the skills you need to turn the conversation in your favor and to win the respect of even the smartest, toughest men. This course will tune up your ability to lead, negotiate, sell, and converse with men in every arena of life. Never feel small again. Join us to learn how to win cooperation from the good men in your life.

Geisha School--Hawaii

(Nov 15-18)

The meaning of life is the pleasure you share with other people. Mia Sage's Geisha School brings together women from many cultures to learn the art of genuine entertainment. Geisha means entertainer. Here you master the art of inspiring others by amusing yourself. Your enjoyment is contagious. People find joy just from spending time with you. As you learn to release the habitual roles you play, you slip into your authentic happiness. Light-hearted women naturally create an environment of nurturing trust. This sweet, intensive experience brings peaceful harmony to all parts of your life. Join us in Honolulu to set yourself free.
