

Ah, Ibiza, Aloha Hawaii

Autumn on Ibiza is special. Days are warm and sunny. Nights are chilly. And the sea is cool and refreshing. We would love to invite you to spend some time with us here this fall. This is where you go to further your career while romping about in paradise. We are offering a variety of trainings to get your career in gear—from Enchantment to Time & Money. Check the calendar in the back for details.

But if tropical heat is your thing, you might prefer to join Mia, Xochi, and company on the beautiful island of Oahu, Hawaii. They will be offering advanced training for How to Talk to Men, along with Geisha School. Psst--We have heard rumors of another Hawaiian Wedding.

Coaching Goes Mainstream

A recent poll by CNN found that more than 80% of executives in US companies have used a coach to kick-start their careers. In addition, many political leaders like Hilary Clinton and Barack Obama, hire coaches to improve their public speaking, debate, strategy, and policy. Everyone knows that winning athletes win because they have the best coaches. But now it seems that every profession has become a playing arena.

If you are an entrepreneur you might need several coaches to improve your own skills: presentation - data - storytelling - business development - money - promotion - writing - wardrobe—every skill you add will add to your success.

If you are a coach you will want to specialize in arenas that people actually need. You can be successful as a life coach, but there are a limited number of people that need to see what is holding them back. Clients today are more curious about the skills they need to move forward in their careers.

Most coaches do a little training so they can build small practices and add some variety to their lives. Top professional coaches train hard to provide the finest service possible to their clients. At Sage University we train all levels of coaching.

We are especially excited when coaches collaborate to pool their talents. Robert Jansen and Andreas Raupach have created several brilliant projects to inspire their clients. Together they are a dream team, bringing out each other's strengths as they work together to provide excellent "edutainment" for their clients and fans. Catch their evening performance in Berlin on December 7th. Feel the excitement and ride the wave of their business partnership to uplift your own career.

WHAT'S NEW

Mia Sage's How to Talk to Men book is in the hands of the publisher. We should receive our first shipment on December 1st. As soon as the presses start rolling we will give you a call to confirm your order so we can get your copy in the mail.

This book will enlighten and enliven you with regard to men. The stories are delightful and the data is impeccable. If you train or coach relationships you will find the information you need, presented with profound clarity. If you want to live in greater harmony with your man, this book will provide the wisdom necessary to build a great partnership.

Greetings from Mia Sage

It's amazing how just packing my bags for Hawaii catapults me into the excitement of travel. The moment I pull the suitcase out of storage I notice that my step gets lighter, along with my heart. I guess I am a traveler above all else. I can already hear the waves of Waikiki.

It's a great feeling to leave for the tropics knowing that my book is finished. Our little 4-month project ended up taking 4 years. But once I got started I realized that I didn't want a simple book—I wanted a great one. I hope you enjoy reading it as much as I enjoyed writing it.

When I was buried in the writing process there was simply no way to care for the business. Amazingly Xochi leaped into action, taking care of everyone and spreading cheer throughout the organization. She has blossomed into a first-rate business leader, and she is glowing with aliveness from stepping up to the challenge. Miamar Productions has really developed into a great team.

Jasmin Buehler and Pia Von der Hoff are conducting The Coaching Game in Hamburg in January. We will SKYPE in from here to provide the interviews and to teach participants how to use the coaching tools and the Performance Scales. Working together with Pia and Jasmin is a dream. Every time we speak with them, they fill our space with light and love. This is the quality that defines Miamar.

December 2.-7. The Coaching Game will happen in Austin. Next year we will conduct it in several cities, so we are looking for hosts and trainers to play with us. This is a wonderful way to earn while you learn. If you have what it takes to organize an event, please let us know when you are ready to play.

How To Talk to Men: The Geisha and the Gorilla

Thanks to Mia I have the marriage of my dreams with the love of my life. Mia's communication tools really work. There is no other book like How to Talk to Men. –Carly Smith, Chicago.

After so many years of dating men who weren't my type, Mia gave me the insights I needed to create the kind of love I have always wanted. The skills I learned from her broke a long chain of disappointing connections and helped me create a marriage that is beyond anything I ever expected. –Maria Johnson, Austin

I don't know what I was thinking about men before. Mia Sage brought me down to earth so I could stop chasing fantasies and attract a wonderful man into my life. Together we are on the adventure of a lifetime. Thank you, Mia. –Xochi Hernandez

I love this book! I can't put it down once I started reading it! Fellow sisters, If you want to create a more harmonious relationship with men and make a deeper connection with them by winning their trust and hearts, read this book! You will come away feeling more empowered as a woman and having more compassion and understanding about our fellow opposite sex. –Mei Hillhouse, Ph.D,

I highly recommend this book! In fact, I recommend many reads!
I have been a student of this material for years now, and my heart is lighter, kinder and sweeter than it has ever been. And I am more powerful than I could have imagined. Letting go of my prejudices (which I didn't even know I had!) allowed me to shape my future with clear eyes and a clear heart. Now, I have rich friendships (in business and in my personal life) with men, and, what I've learned has helped me to be a loving and firm mother to my two sons. –Dana Minney
